

IT IS POLITICAL NOT PERSONAL

Trouble Between John Sharp Williams And Congressman De Armond Is Deep-Seated.

ARISTOCRAT VS. THE DEMOCRAT

Bryan, Is The Real Cause Of The Break Between The Two Minority Leaders Of The House.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—That the trouble between John Sharp Williams, chairman of the democratic caucus of the house and hails from Texas. It is said that he and others of his party are seeking to bring about peace between the two men without avail.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.

to have been more than a personal matter, but a deep-rooted political strife.

Aristocracy Vs. Democracy
Williams is anti-Bryan; De Armond is for Bryan. De Armond is a Mississippi farm boy who has risen to prominence in his party's councils by hard work. Williams has inherited prestige from his father, a rich plantation owner and acknowledged democrat. It is conservatism versus radicalism and the personal encounter between the two men is due to this fact.

Opposing Elements
The breach between the two factions of which each is a type may work to the disadvantage of the "poorhouse One" as Williams is now in the open and is a powerful opponent for any candidate to have.

GREEN AND GAYNOR DENIED THE WRITS

Supreme Court Refuses to Grant Them Their Requests on a Direct Appeal Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—The supreme court of the United States today denied a petition for writs of certiorari bringing to that court the cases of Benjamin Green and John F. ## JANESVILLE MEN WILL TESTIFY AT ELKHORN

E. P. Doty and Charles Gage Will Be Witnesses in Alleged Grain-Stealing Case.
E. P. Doty and Charles Gage of this city will go to Elkhorn, Dec. 30, to testify in an alleged grain-stealing case. Two brothers by the name of Pech are accused of stealing some barley from a neighbor by the name of Macdonald and alleged to have brought to this city and sold it at the duty mill giving their name as Pierce.

Circuit Court: Judge Grimm this afternoon granted a divorce to W. T. Sauerbaum of Monroe from his wife, Martha Sauerbaum, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. He also heard the testimony and the argument in the case of McGowan vs. the Town of Milton. This action was brought to enjoin the town from paying certain contractors for work done by them which was alleged to be unsatisfactory.

GEORGE BRUCE CORTELYOU
Washington, Dec. 23.—Quiet, unobtrusive, sphinx-like George Bruce Cortelyou has been raised from his customary silence by President Roosevelt's declaration that he would not run for a third term. Cortelyou took this as a personal rebuff and said, "I have had a mighty rough deal from the White house." Washington would not have been surprised to hear today that Secretary Cortelyou had resigned his portfolio. At the treasury department all inquiries relative to Mr. Cortelyou's plans or opinions were met with the usual silence. Mr. Cortelyou regards the president's third term statement as aimed at him alone and realizes it practically ends his hopes of securing a nomination.

JUDGE OLIN WELLBORN.

If Judge Landis had not set such a fearful race in the $29,250,000 Standard Oil fine last summer the judgment which Judge Olin Wellborn has handed down in the United States district court at Los Angeles, Cal., against the Santa Fe railway would be considered stupendous and epoch-making. Judge Wellborn has fined the Santa Fe $330,000 for rebating. The company was convicted on 66 counts of granting rebates to the Grand Canyon Lumber & Cement company on shipments of freight from Nelson, Ariz., to Los Angeles. The fine is $5,000 on each of the 66 counts.

After the funeral services the body was taken to the Emerald Grove cemetery for burial.

Edwin Griffith.
Edwin Griffith, a farmer living about two miles and a half east of Janesville, died suddenly at the Madison hospital Saturday evening. The cause of his death was acute bowel trouble. He was taken ill on Friday morning while driving in the country near Footville and was taken to a neighboring farmer's house and shortly afterwards to his home. Dr. Chisney was called and after examining Mr. Griffith, announced that immediate operation was the only means of saving his life. He was taken to Madison Saturday evening and died a few minutes after reaching the hospital. His sudden death comes as a severe shock to his many friends, few of whom knew he was ill. Mr. Griffith was forty-seven years of age at the time of his death and leaves three children to mourn him, one daughter, Mrs. Glen Magee of Janesville, and two sons, Willis and Harold, who lived with their father on his farm. Two brothers also survive the deceased, Benjamin and Frank, both of whom live on farms near Evansville.

If the father of Mr. Griffith, who recently went to California, can arrive in time the funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the M. E. church in Evansville. The Rev. T. W. North will officiate.

THE "UNIVERSAL" COFFEE PERCOLATOR

Makes Perfect Coffee, Uniform in Quality

Retaining all its aroma, free from tannic acid caused by boiling.

Anyone, however inexperienced, can make perfect coffee in 10 or 15 minutes.

Filled with cold water, the only thing to use if perfect coffee is wanted, the pot is so constructed that all the heat is concentrated around the little chamber below the automatic valve, and in a minute or two after it is put upon the stove the water, lukewarm at first, and gradually increasing in temperature, is pumped through the tube and filters down through the coffee. Before the water reaches the boiling point, the coffee piping hot, is ready to serve. No steam or aroma escapes. The glass dome in the cover shows by the color of the coffee when the required strength has been reached. The result is uniformly delicious, healthful coffee, as clear as wine, though no eggs are used to clarify it, better coffee than you ever had or can get in any other way.

The "Universal" is made of pure aluminum, the most sanitary of metals. Simple, easy to use, easy to clean. Will last for generations. Works on any kind of stove, coal, wood, gas or oil.

BIG STUFFED GOOSE HELD A RECEPTION

Forty-one Pound Watertown Product Attracted Attention—Present to
H. S. Thometz

Up at Watertown there is an industry of stuffing geese for the eastern market. It is an art which has brought to this country from Germany and actually the products of labor of weeks is sold in the New York market where it brings high and fancy prices. H. S. Thometz on Saturday received one of the prize birds of this year's stuffing, a goose weighing forty-one pounds. When exhibited Saturday evening it created quite a sensation. George L. Weber of Watertown was the donor and man who brought the bird to the reception that it is the delight of epicures. The old notion and theory that the geese were pulled to the floor by their web feet to keep them quiet, was exploded long ago. No such practice ever prevailed here so far as known. In fact, during a portion of the stuffing process the goose is allowed some freedom and plenty of water, but toward the close of the stuffing season they are confined in smaller pens. The time of stuffing varies from three to four weeks and under favorable conditions the latter period gives the best results.

The stuffing is first begun at intervals of six or seven hours and during the last week this is kept up every three hours, both day and night, turning being taken by members of the family in this work. During the last week the goose becomes heavy and in consequence of the stuffing and the small amount of exercise the liver becomes quite large, in some cases being known to weigh four pounds. Great care must be exercised at this period or the goose may suffocate and die. The work of stuffing is done by hand the noodles being actually pushed down the throat of the goose. In doing this each goose must be taken separately and given as much of the food as the person deems sufficient. The noodles are generally prepared from a mixture of wheat and rye flour which is mixed into a dough and cut in strips or noodles, which in turn are baked in the oven ready to be used. When the time comes they are moistened in water and forced down the throat of the goose with the aid of the finger.

The custom is one which came to this country with the Germans from certain sections of that empire. At Strasburg the industry is a large one, the livers being used to make a pie called pate de foie gras, much eaten and greatly relished by the French. The liver is used as a dainty edible in this country while the bird is fatted out and put away for table use. The skin of the goose is tanned and makes a dish called Jewish crackers, greatly relished. There is but little lean meat on the fowl, the most of the carcass being converted into goose lard.

For a Xmas attraction, "In a Woman's Power" will be seen at Myers theatre at popular prices. This is the first time this beautiful play will be seen at popular prices, so that every person in Janesville cannot afford to miss this treat.

SYSTEMATIC ROAD-BUILDING

A. R. Hearst, state highway engineer, has just issued three pamphlets,
 known as road pamphlets Nos. 1, 2 and 3. The first deals with earth roads, the second with the splitting drag, and the third with stone and gravel roads.

Statistics show that the state of Wisconsin has 63,000 miles of road, surfaced with gravel 9000, surfaced with stone 700 miles. These figures show that more than 53,000 miles are the old-fashioned dirt road, and indicate that for many years to come these roads will be the prevailing roads in the state.

The question of supreme importance is, how can this class of roads be intelligently worked, and made passable at all seasons of the year. To this question Mr. Hearst devotes attention, and his pamphlets should be found in the hands of every supervisor and road-builder in the state, as they are full of valuable information.

Mr. Hearst regards it of the utmost importance that every dirt road should have an established grade, and that the best engineering talent should be employed in this work.

He says that the best known road-machinery for making and keeping in repair this class of roads, is the old-fashioned split-log drag, a simple contrivance, yet very effective in operation.

This drag is to be used only after a rain when the ground is soft and a penalty is provided by law for cutting up a newly-dragged road until it dries out and has time to harden.
 When this is done it presents a smooth, hard surface.

The law also provides the amount of compensation for using these drags,
 which is $1 per mile, and it is estimated that a team will drag a mile in from one and a half to two hours.

The drags are inexpensive and every farmer can afford to own one.
 After a rain he uses it on the roadway in front of his farm, reports the time to the road commissioner and in due time receives his pay.

The drag is not an experiment for it is used successfully in several states and the farmers around Wau-paca, in our own state, adopted it some time ago, and are highly gratified with results.

This is the solution of the road
 question in localities where gravel and macadam are not practical because of expense. Intelligent road-building is the order of the day, and the state is performing the right kind of initial work. The following instructions, sent out by Mr. Hearst, about when and how to drag, will be of interest:

WHEN TO DRAG.
 Unless the road is in the right condition, the work of dragging will be wasted. One thing to be insisted upon is that the work be done at the right moment. The right time is when the road is wet. The muddier it is the better the results. On a road that is in extremely bad condition and the mud is very deep, it is probable that the form of drag shown here in Fig. 3, known as the tap plank drag, can be worked to better advantage.

In the summer time and early fall, dragging should be done while it is actually raining, for unless the rain is exceptionally heavy and long continued, the water will penetrate the dry roadbed so fast that the surface

will be comparatively dry when the drag is used after the rain has stopped, with the result that the road surface will work up in crumbs.
 When this happens it is a sign the road is too dry. The nearer it is possible to spread the mud over the road as a mortar, much in the same way as a mason works mortar with a trowel, the greater the improvement produced.

Under no conditions should a road be dragged when it is dry. This merely crumbles up the surface and makes a layer of the loose material which quickly becomes dust and is again turned into mud which will hold water on the surface of the road; and this is exactly the condition that is to be prevented. Drag when the road is good and muddy. Don't drag when it is dry. Drag whenever possible and at all seasons of the year. If a road is dragged immediately before a cold spell, it will freeze in a smooth condition.

HOW TO USE A DRAG.

Make a light drag.
 Drive the team at a walk.
 Ride on the drag, don't walk.
 Don't drag a dry road.
 Drag when the road is muddy.
 Drag, if possible, immediately before freeze.

Begin at one side of the road, returning on the opposite side.

Always drag a little earth towards the center of the road until it is ruled ten or twelve inches above the center of the roadway.

Do not attempt to move very much material at one time with a drag.

If the drag cuts in too much, short-
 on the hitch.

The amount of earth the drag will carry can be regulated by the driver, accordingly as he stands near the cutting end or away from it.

When the roads are first dragged after a very muddy spell, vehicles should drive, if possible, to one side until the road has had a chance to freeze or partially dry out. The exercise of a very little care on the part of the users of the road will do quite as much as the drag towards securing a smoother road. The law provides a penalty for anyone who wilfully runs gauding capital as an employing agency cuts up a dragged road.

Think This Over

There are lots of people in the city who are wearing crowns in their mouths for which they have paid an even ten dollars each.

That's all right if one couldn't do better, but when you stop to think that for exactly half that amount you may now get exactly the same work by choosing Dr. Richards for your Dentistry.

It becomes a matter of simple justice to your own purse to think twice before you repeat the offense.

There are dentists in Chicago who charge $35.00 an hour for their time. And many others—just as good operators—that do not get half that fee.

It's all in the nerve of the dentist how much he makes you pay him for his services.

Dr. Richards has built his present large practice upon the theory that "The best work coupled with reasonable prices will win out in the end."

Dr. Richards says: "If you can show me a single point of superiority of these $10 crowns over my $5 crowns I would be glad to know it. I am willing to be convinced. But I declare to you, I have compared them day after day as I see them in my patients' mouths. And I know what I am talking about. It makes no difference whether you pay $10 or $50. You get the same crown. Consult Dr. Richards and save your hard-earned money. Offices over Hall & Sayles Jewelry store, West Milwaukee St.

HOG ORDINANCE NOT SIGNED BY MAYOR

It is Predicted That Measure Will Never Become Law and Many Farms are in City Limits.

Through this morning Mayor Hedley had not affixed his signature to the ordinance passed by the common council prohibiting the raising or keeping of hogs within the limits of the city. It is not believed that the executive will put his stamp on measure and without it the ordinance will go back to the council. It is predicted that the ordinance will not pass it when it comes up for reconsideration. The argument against the proposed law is that there is a strip of land from a quarter to a half mile in width entirely around the residence portion of town and within the city limits. Of course this strip is farm lands and the ordinance would work a hardship to the owners of those farms. What other matters further than routine business will come before the council at its regular meeting tonight is not known.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, Dec. 23, 1867.—Accepted.—Rev. A. L. Higgs of Ill. has accepted a call to the Congregational Church of Center, Rock County.

Theatre.—Mills opens at Lippa's Hall this evening with Oliver Twist. His company is represented as being a good one.

What It Cost.—According to the forthcoming report of the Secretary of State the sum of $9,255 was paid last year for the destruction of Wolves, Wildcats and Lynxes, in Wisconsin.

Christmas Tree.—The teachers and all friends of the children attending the Presbyterian Sunday School, are invited to meet with the children Christmas Eve, at seven o'clock. The tree will be lighted up at seven-fifteen promptly. The exercises will consist of singing, recitations by the children, presentation of presents &c. A very pleasant time is anticipated and a most cordial invitation is extended to all to come and make a "Merry Christmas." There will be no admission fee charged.

Conclusion of the Oratorio.—The last presentation of the Oratorio of Esther in this city took place on Saturday evening. In point of genuine satisfaction, we think that we are safe in saying that no entertainment ever given here has been productive of so much. Those who took part in it seemed to enter fully into the spirit of the music and the scenic effect, and took their several characters with remarkable fidelity. All acquitted themselves so handsomely that we can hardly speak of individuals without deserving praise. But we cannot refrain from saying that Mrs. Brower of Madison shone the bright particular star, among the other lights. Her voice rich and of remarkable compass, brought out with grand effect the part assigned to her, while her appreciation of the character she enacted seemed to be perfect. She has excellent dramatic powers and would shine on the stage. The solos and choruses of this oratorio are ringing in the heads and dropping in sentences from the lips of hundreds in this vicinity who have seen and heard it rendered.

Advantage of Silence.

The silent woman has an advantage over the one who talks back. The second party will be always kept guessing as to what she might have said.

Fabric Practically Everlasting.

The Russians manufacture a fabric from the fiber of a filamentous stone from the Siberian mines which is said to be of so durable a nature that it is practically everlasting. The material is soft to the touch and pliable in the extreme, and has only to be thrown into a fire when dirty to be made absolutely clean.

Probably Not.

An actor who had made a lamentable failure in a part from which he had hoped for great success, said to a fellow thespian: "I can't make out why the thing didn't go. Wasn't my acting good?" "Well—uh—" stammered the other, who was in a truly embarrassing plight, "good is not the word."

Decided Acquisition.

"I am to dine with Jack to-night," said the little widow. "I'll bring him around afterward to your Welsh rarebit party if he isn't ossified by then." "Bring him anyway," implored the woman. "I am to have an artist, a ventriloquist, a pianist, a sculptor. All I need to complete the outfit is an ossified man."

There is a wholesome countryside brand of comedy down in southern Indiana, that don't exist elsewhere, and when the playwright originally dug "Sis" and her fun-makers out of Posey county and made them stage folks, there was a breath of the flower-laden prairies that refused to be left behind and its fragrance has always sort of taken hold and made you a friend of "Sis." The costumes have been prepared by the best costumers in New York and are complete in every detail. The old furniture, the tapestry, the armor, the selected pieces of their special dress and one of the loveliest things in the rehearsal of the play has been the old-fashioned court dances which are introduced in the first act to the rhythm of old-fashioned music. In its last act the play is unique, in that the good old atmosphere is retained to the very last, and there is an epilogue spoken by Miss Morritt, which comes as a sort of personal appeal to the feminine portion of the audience,

TO DISCUSS SOCIAL CONDITIONS NEXT

Socialists Will Consider Vital Problems of American Life—To Meet at the University of Wisconsin
this Week.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 22.—Conflict between capital and labor, between whites and blacks, and between Americans and Japanese, will be the topics of discussion of the second annual meeting of the American Sociological Society, to be held at the University of Wisconsin, Dec. 27 to 31.
Among the well-known students of social problems who will speak are J.
G. Phelps-Stokes of New York, Upton
Sinclair of "Jungle" fame, Jane Adams of Hull House, Prof. W. B. D.
Dunlop of Atlanta, well known champion of the colored race, Dr. Lester
P. Ward of Brown University, and Prof. Franklin H. Giddings of Columbia. Each session will be devoted to a discussion of one of the great social conflicts now agitating this country.

The basis of social conflict, will be the subject of the opening address by Prof. T. N. Carver of Harvard University, followed by discussion by J.
G. Phelps-Stokes, and Professor E. A.
Ross of the University of Wisconsin.
Is race friction between blacks and whites growing and inevitable, is a topic to be presented by Alfred H.
Stone of Washington, D. C., with discussion by Prof. W. B. D. Dunlop of Atlanta University and a number of others. What conflict stimuli are active in conflicts between orientals and occidentals will be discussed by Prof.
W. L. Thomas of the University of Chicago, Jeremiah Jenks of Cornell, and Paul S. Reinsch of the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin will open the discussion on the question, is class friction in America growing and inevitable, and the discussion will be continued by such noted social workers as Upton Sinclair, Dr. Graham Taylor of Chicago Commons, and Miss Jane Adams of Hull House. Joint meetings of the American Sociological Society, the American Historical Society, the American Political Science Association, the American Association for Labor Legislation, and the American Economic Association will be held during the coming convention.

WILL CONSIDER THE
LABOR LAWS NEXT

American Association for Labor Legislation to Meet at University of Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 23.—The problems of the working man, and what legislation can do toward solving them, will be discussed at the second annual meeting of the Association for Labor Legislation to be held at the University of Wisconsin, Dec. 30. The purpose of this organization is to promote uniformity of labor legislation in the United States, to encourage the study of labor legislation, and to cooperate with the International Association for the promotion of international ends. The officers of the association include such well-known champions of the cause of labor as Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, John Graham Brooks, Mrs. Florence Kelley, Jane Adams, and Charles P.
Nell, most of whom will be present at the coming meeting. Dr. Richard T. Ely of the University of Wisconsin is the president of the association, and Rowell C. McCree of New York the acting secretary.

The normal work day in the coal mines is the subject of a paper by Dr. Thomas K. Urdahl, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin who is now professor of economics at Colorado College. Charles P. Nell, United States Commissioner of Labor, will lead the subsequent discussion of the paper. Workmen's insurance in Illinois will be presented by Professor C. R. Henderson of this University of Chicago, and will be discussed by Professor John T. Commons and M. O. Loring of the University of Wisconsin. Labor legislation and economic theory is the subject of the president's address, to be given by Dr. R. T. Ely.

The second session will be devoted to a general discussion of a program for social legislation, with special reference to the wage earner to be opened by Prof. Henry C. Sangor of Columbia University, who will present a report on the employment of women and children in this country.

RELICS OF LINCOLN
CAMPAIGN IN 1864

Mrs. James R. Stott Possesses Badges
and Tickets of Historical Value.

Mrs. James R. Stott of 107 Milton avenue possesses interesting relics of historical value which were found among the effects of her father, the late Ransom Griffin of Evansville.
One is a Lincoln campaign badge of 1864. Another is a likeness of Lincoln on the obverse side and a likeness of Andrew Johnson on the reverse. Two other relics are early political tickets, one for the state and one for Dane county in 1864. On the state ticket appears the name of the late Congressman Thaddeus C. Sloan of this city.

To Stop Piles Try This.

Piles get instant relief when Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment is applied. It's a Pile Cure, remember, and it is good for nothing else whatever except piles.
General Ointments, for many uses, can't possibly cure piles. A pile ointment must be specific. Every aim of its maker must be directed specifically toward piles alone.
Says Dr. Shoop, "I make three valuable ointments, and yet, one only—Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment—will bring help to pile sufferers." Even then, in old chronic cases, originating because of a torpid liver, with biliousness, I prescribe my Dr. Shoop's Restorative internally while using Magic Ointment locally or externally. Keep in mind this fact, please, that the large vessels of the liver originate in the walls of the rectum, where piles arise. Obstruct these vessels in the liver and piles instantly appear. Dr. Shoop's Restorative corrects stomach and liver sluggishness, hence its value as an aid to Magic Ointment in the treatment of obstinate cases of piles.
None genuine without Dr. Shoop's name on the package. Sold at 50c per box by

A Foot Race

It was on a Sunday morning
in the whirly month of December,
Two men a lot did make,
That one will long remember.

It was in a little ward store,
Where men are apt to meet;
Jim said to Gus: "I'll bet the treat
in a foot-race I can beat."

The deal was closed, the race begun,
But was of short duration.
For Jim played out, ere he had run
A couple of hundred paces.

Moral.
Now, when a man grows old
And his bones grow weak,
He had best stay home and dream
Of days gone by when he was young,
And of foot-races he did beat.

The Singer building in New York

As Seen by Him.

We live in a machine age. We are wound up like automata, and we do the same things at the same time, never vary, never make the slightest departure from the conventional, and yet we think we enjoy ourselves. Per-

to conquer our nomadic habits.—

NO MORE DANDRUFF.

Newbro's Herpicide Destroys the Pestiferous Cause of Annoying Dandruff.

Does your head itch? Is your coat or dress full of white flakes after dressing your hair? That's the effect of dandruff. Is your hair thinning?
Are you beginning to get bald in spots? Are you already, in fact, rapidly becoming bald? If so, that is the effect of a meanly little parasite that burrows in at the root of the hair, and throws up the scalp in dandruff and eats off the hair at the root. Science's latest discovery is a destroyer of that pestiferous germ.
That destroyer is contained in no other hair preparation on earth but Newbro's Herpicide. Try it, and be convinced. A delightful dressing, sold by leading druggists. Send 10c

Whether it be used in home or more public celebration, however, effectively it may be decorated, whatever may be its burden of presents, the Christmas tree must be lighted if it is to give anything like the joy and pleasure intended.

Eyesight and Crime.
Many criminals have suffered from eye strain or some other defect of vision which prevented the exercise of complete self-control. In consequence, habits of drug taking and alcoholic excess were formed and the moral sense so perverted that crimes of greater or less magnitude were committed.—Cassell's Magazine.

The California Girl.
A New York woman was driving an automobile the other day when a man fell from a tree into the machine. The fair chauffeur promptly frisked and a collision with a farmer's wagon followed. If that misadventure had fallen in a California girl's gasoline she would now be adorning her sombrero as a hat band.—Los Angeles Herald.

A French woman whose husband was in hiding from the authorities inadvertently betrayed his whereabouts to a police spy. As a result the man was taken and received a term of imprisonment. Is the manly type of burglar dying out in this effeminate age? We trust not, but we note that some house-breakers who entered a well known confectionery establishment in the Strand the other night spent some of their time in consuming a quantity of chocolate, cream buns and assorted cakes.—Punch.

Eighteenth Century Dames.
As wits, theologians, politicians and writers, the women of a hundred and fifty or sixty years ago were certainly in advance of those of today; yet apparently they had no wish to push man from his proper place. They held no anti-matrimonial views. They made good mothers, they were excellent housewives, they were socially charming, they managed to be personally attractive. In many directions they had the advantage of us.—Lady's Pictorial.

SEFFY
A ROMANCE OF A
PENNSYLVANIA FARM
BY JOHN LUTHER LONG
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DON WISNEY

"Pappy, to-night I am a magician. To-night I can give you anything you want. But you must ask for what you want most."

She smiled lovingly upon him. "Shut your eyes and ask."

Poor old Baumgartner did as she commanded. And, for a long moment, there was silence. Then a tear dropped on his face. For in the first light of dawn, sad, sorry old Baumgartner was making a picture, too; a white, old, hopeless, piteous, pleading face, framed in masses of hair, shaggy gray when Seffy went away, sentilly white now. The sunken eyes spoke of hastening peace after sorrow, and the whole piteous figure begged for those tears which fell upon its face.

"Oh, pappy, excuse me," said the voice which had gathered to itself all the music of the life, he thought broken, "but you have so often called me beautiful that I want to tell you now that you have the most beautiful face I have ever seen! Pappy—pappy, dear pappy, God bless you!"

And her lips descended upon his, her dear fingers closed his eyes once more, her handkerchief wiped away the tear she had dropped upon his face and others which had followed it, and she said:

"Are your eyes shut? Yes! Now, ask for anything you want on earth or in heaven—and you shall have it. Do not be afraid! The very dearest thing you can think."

"Seffy—no," he whispered brokenly—"Seffy and you—and me—together!"

"Presto! Open your eyes!" cried Seffy.

He did so—and there, kneeling before him, was Seffy—and one arm was about Sally, the other reaching out to him—not quite certain how it would be received, but with the old smile of Seffy. He seemed bigger, and he had a young beard on cheek and lip, and he appeared quite worthy to be the president of the Kansas State League of Farmers' clubs.

Old Baumgartner looked without a word, at first to be sure, then to fill all his being. And then he rose to his feet and shook off all the years that had accumulated during Seffy's absence, and when his arms were about them both, and theirs about him, their joint shadow rose and filled all the room and ceiling—blotting out all else. And, lo, it was not three shadows, but one!

"Seffy," asked his father, while his arm went about his shoulders with the unconsciousness of what seemed yesterday, "how did you ever get president of that thing—what is it?"

"I fought for it, pappy."

"You? Gosh-a-mighty!"

They both laughed happily.

"Yes—you and Sally were right—I needed to learn to fight. I went out into the world where you sent me—thank you both—and found life. And I found it a fight from start to finish. Only with some there is no quarter."

"But not with you," said Sally.

"But not with me," agreed Seffy. "That is not necessary to success."

"Gosh! Seffy," said his father, "you are as wise as of Kollerman, the preacher. Say, you remember him?"

"I remember everything—the smallest—and it is all precious, pappy—more precious than you can know. If one were never to leave this Happy Valley, one might live and die as I began. And, if one should never learn better it is good—good! But it is not the life of the world out there. And, for me, it is gone for ever! In one way I am sorry. For the world has nothing to exchange for these little things. Out there my heart has always yearned for them and always will! You and Sally must keep them as they are—say, as they were. And I shall live in them and with them and we shall be happier for them."

During all this Seffy's arms and hands had been busy in the old fashion of the days of their simplicity. It was good to see and better to feel!

"I don't believe it," cried his happy old father, returning his caresses. "You ain't forgot a thing! You chust the same—except the dictionary words—chust the same—our Seffy! Ain't no, Sally? Why don't you talk, anyway?"

"Just—the same," said Sally. But the tears were in her dear eyes and she knew that her words were for the father and not the son—for him she understood that it would never be the same—quite, and it was she who had sent him forth to lose the simplicity of the Happy Valley.

"Not a bit—you ain't changed!" repeated the father, as if saying it might make it so.

"Yes, I am," laughed Seffy. "You ain't!" said his father.

"Oh, yes! Sam couldn't get away with me now!"

"Nor Sally, halt?"

"Nor Sally."

"Don't," pleaded Sally, "you hurt me!"

"You see," Seffy went on, "you notice the changes in me, but not in yourselves. Shall I tell you about them? For none of us will ever again be quite as we were. Shall I tell you about the changes in you?"

"No," begged Sally quickly, with drooping head.

"They are beautiful! All beautiful!"

"No!" she repeated.

His father had dropped into his chair, still happy but very tired. For you know, great happiness tires one, too.

"Seffy," he sighed, "why did you wait so long—tell I got old?"

"There is still one thing you haven't noticed about me, or spoken of, if you did, in which I am not changed a bit."

"What?"

It was Sally's quick voice—Sally, who thought she had already inventoried every difference between this Seffy and the old one—Sally, who hungered for the least thing in which he might be unchanged!

"I'm stubborn as ever—thank you, pappy!"

"Gosh! That's not you was a stubborn little idiot!"

"We were," laughed Seffy. "If it hadn't been for that—"

"I wonder what would have happened? Do you know?" Seffy said to Sally.

"No," sighed Sally.

"I think," said Seffy, with a grin and tenderness he never had in the old days, "that we got and lost what we deserve—to get and lose. I didn't deserve you then, dear. Perhaps I do now?"

Sally said nothing—she could not. Her face was deep in his overcoat. And she was making it so very wet—that, presently, she lifted her face, and, with her handkerchief, dried it.

"That is the sweetest thing you have ever said to me—and it breaks my heart—for I don't deserve it—that one little, simple word—dear!"

"Well, well," broke in happy old Baumgartner, drying his own eyes, "is this a time for weeping and wailing and gnashing of the teeth? The prodigal has returned. We got to find a nice fat calf."

"Well," laughed Seffy, not relinquishing Sally, "what is the first thing? I'm ready for work. I'm used to it!"

"To-morrow, Seffy," said his father briskly, "you better let Sally marry you. Remember who brought you."

He gave Sally time to blush, and Seffy time to find both her hands and her lips, and then he finished:

"And make it early—maybe the first thing in the morning. In the afternoon we'll take down the fence. All three of us. It's waiting for us. Sally keep it waiting. Ain't so, Sally?"

Sally affirmed this.

The Dignity of Age.
A young countess arrived in a certain borough in Scotland, and in the course of duty found it essential to apprehend a very old offender. It is estimated that in the British Isles 6,000,000 tons of potatoes are produced annually on about 600,000 acres, giving an average of ten tons to the acre, but a very large quantity of potatoes comes from abroad, so that the annual consumption is much larger than these figures would indicate.

Santa's Christmas Mail

HIS sleigh and reindeer re-enforced by fast trains and ocean liners, Santa Claus is delivering a much larger number of presents every year. The United States postal authorities say the Christmas mail this season will far exceed in volume that of last winter. And then it was tremendous.

With every hamlet, town and city sending out and receiving its quota, millions of letters and packages—some by special delivery, many registered and others with ordinary postage—travel from end to all parts of the nation, arrive from foreign shores or pass out to them. There are about 80,000,000 persons in this country. A majority of them both send and receive Christmas mail, from one to several dozen pieces each. This gives a faint idea of the extent of the work that falls upon the postal authorities.

Whether in the heart of the city or on a rural delivery route the carrier is loaded down with gifts—remembrances of loving friends or heart echoes of gentler families. The letters he must deliver are easily three times as many as in ordinary seasons, but his greatest burden is the packages—immense, back-breaking packages.

But if the carriers are worked hard, how about the postoffice clerks? Besides the increased amount of matter they have to handle, they must be par-

SANTA MAKES THE POSTMAN'S BACK ACHIE. Particularly careful that the regulations of the department are not being violated. Many articles of merchandise are prohibited, transmission in the mails. Violations are frequent because of ignorance.

One thing that causes extra work for the letter sorters is the peculiar addresses on many letters and packages. Aside from the thousands of mistakes sent to Santa Claus, there are those with some such address as "Care of Lieutenant Peary, North Pole." Puzzle addresses are not uncommon, and, although postoffice people enjoy them ordinarily, they do not at Christmas time. A frequent form of address is a drawing of a plum pudding, with the name, street and city written in minute characters on a leaf of a sprig of holly at the top.

The greatest center of postal activity in the world is probably New York city. It is by far the largest mail distributing or shipping point on the continent, receiving postal matter from foreign countries, from the north, south and west. It also has an immense foreign population that sends home vast numbers of money orders and registered letters.

In the midst of the Christmas rush an average of 3,000 registered parcels and 60,000 letters an hour are received at the foreign mail station in New York. Recently one ship sailed for Europe with 3,000 sacks of ordinary mail matter and almost 75,000 registered packages, while another vessel carried away half a million dollars in money orders.

A Royal Xmas Present Maker

THE homemade Christmas present craze has invaded Russia, and the czarina has caught it. She has plenty of Christmas money and spends it liberally, but in addition makes with her own hands gifts that will especially please the czarowitz and the four little grand duchesses. The czarina's life is a busy one, filled with court and other public duties, social entertainments of a personal nature and many acts of charity, while she spends some time in painting, woodcarving, drawing and literary work. Also she devotes many hours to making Christmas presents for her children—an occupation which to her is indeed a labor of love.

Probably her most notable effort as a woodcarver is an exact model of a chalet in the imperial pleasure grounds connected with the Tsarskoe-Selo palace.

The original is the czar's favorite summer house, in which he frequently has his luncheon served when he desires to escape from the almost oppressive splendor of the imperial dining rooms—splendor that takes away the imperial appetite.

The model is exquisitely carved in whitewood and has eighty-four separate parts. These are so made that the miniature house can be pulled down by the czarowitz, who is now more than two years old, without being damaged. The czarina is an export woodcarver. This ability is a result of her German blood and environment.

An little Princess Alex, daughter of the late Grand Duke Louis IV, of Russia and "Sweet Princess Alice," Queen Victoria's favorite daughter, who was taught many of the crafts that it is deemed proper in Germany for all children to know. And it is because of that ability, her deep devotion to her children and the inherent desire of the Germans "to make things" that the czarina plans and executes little surprises for the two imperial youngsters of Russia.

CHRISTMAS EVE.

THINK is music in the chimney—
On the hearth a genial glow.
Now the house is making ready
For old Santa Claus, I know,
And the tune the chimney's singing
Is a merry roundelay:
"Joy and cheer—
Christmas is here,
And old Santa's on the way."

EVERY spark that mounts the chimney
Is a fairy of the fire,
Dancing up to watch for Santa,
Sailing higher, higher, higher,
Till, amid the stars that twinkle,
On the sky pathway they pause,
Gaze and blink,
Nod and wink,
Waiting for old Santa Claus.

ALL the coals that glow and sparkle
On the hearth or in the grate
And the embers there assembled
Are but eager eyes that wait
For Kris Kringle, who is coming
With his pack of sweets and toys,
Sledge and deer,
Bringing cheer
To a million girls and boys.

ARTHUR J. BURDICK.

WISHING COSTS LITTLE.

"This year, dearie, you can wish anything you want for your birthday present."

"Oh, how charming!"
"Because I haven't the money to buy anything at all for you."—Flegondo Blaetter.

Epithet and Epitaph.
The difference between an epithet and an epitaph is that one is applied to a man before he is dead, and the other after.
